'Dry' Group Hear Sheriff Candidate

Thursday night there was a meeting of the executive board of the Hempstead County Christian Civic Foundation at the Diamond Cafe.

The board invited all of the candidates for sheriff to be present and share their views concerning the various ways they would handle the affairs of the sheriff's office if they were elected. Henry Sinyard and Larry Arnett attended the meeting and both expressed their desires to enforce the law without partiality wherever a violation may occur.

Women Barred at Temple

HONOLULU (AP) — Some old and new taboos will be imposed when Kaneaki, largest of Oahu's ancient Hawaiian temples, is opened to the public this summer.

Women's liberation aside, ladies will be banned from the temple's upper platform—lest Lono, the god of peace, be upset.

"We didn't want to offend Hawaiians who revere the traditions of their ancestors," says Russell Apple, a historian for the National Park Service.

Smoking will be forbidden, too, because of the dry pill grass, Apple said.

Honolulu's Bishop Museum and the National Park Service are restoring the four-century-old temple.

42-24-36 and Pride of Atlanta Bar

By WILLIAM CHAZE

Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — It is safe to say Margie Grant is a somewhat improbable grandma.

A divorcee, Mrs. Grant was married for the second time recently in a topless wedding at a nightclub where she works as a bar bare-bosomed waitress.

A 37-year-old of statuesque proportions, red hair and sparkling green eyes, she carries around a wallet bearing the inscription "Something to Brag About."

Inside are pictures of her five children, her son-in-law, and her first grandchild, born June 8.

"People who come in the place think it's a blast to be waited on by a topless waitress," she said. "And then when I tell them it's grandmom Margie—that really blows their minds."

Mrs. Grant, whose 16-year first marriage ended in divorce, is remarkably well-preserved for a grandmother with children ranging in age up to 19.

She says her measurements are 42-24-36 and at the slightest provocation will produce a tape measure to prove it.

Her second husband, a 27-year-old security guard at an amusement park, was a customer who used to drop in once a week.

He expressed qualms when Margie broached the idea of taking her marriage vows in working garb, but she talked him around.

She appeared for an interview wearing heavy makeup, rhinestoned bikini panties, high heels and dark hose. Later she donned a see-through blouse.

Mrs. Grant has been a topless waitress four years.

"The customers are such nice people," she said.

"Sometimes the young men will ask me out to breakfast, I tell them, sorry, but I've got a kid you should be dating. I'm a grandmother. They are so cute when they sit there blinking."

publication at the rate of 2½ cents a word. The usual publication rate for legal notices is 5 cents a word.

The General Assembly approved bills to permit the proposal to be printed at the lesser rate. It also reduced the number of required printings from four to one.

Bryant said that, without those changes, the cost of publishing the proposed constitution four times at the normal rate in each of the state's 161 legal newspapers would have been about $500,000, or $3,372 per newspaper. Bryant said that because of the changes, the cost will be $68,000, or about $422 per newspaper.

The document has between 15,000 and 16,000 words. The combined circulation of the 161 newspapers, dailies and weeklies, is about 800,000.

Nancy Scott Brown, Joyce Ann Meggerson, James H. Pilkinton, Jr., Rhonda Kay Tallant, Susan Turner, Suzanne Vinson and Keenan C. Williams of Hope are among 173 seniors at Hendrix College who received their degree June 5.

Nancy, an Elementary Education major, was a member of the Student National Education Association, the Booster Club and the Dormitory Council. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, 607 South Hazel.

Joyce, a Theater Arts major, was a member of the Booster Club, Orientation Committee, Women's Recreation Association and the Hendrix Christian Movement. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Meggerson, Route 1, Box 11.

Jim Pilkinton, Jr., an Economics major, was president of the Young Democrats and a member of the Golf team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Pilkinton, 223 E. 15th Street.

Rhonda Kay, an English major, was a member of Alpha Psi Omega, Student National Education Association. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tallant, 820 First Street.

Susan Turner, an Art major, was a member of Cardinal Key, Sophomore Council and Alpha Psi. She was named in Who's Who, and was Resident Assistant.

Suzanne Vinson was a member of Cardinal Key, Women's Executive Council, Student National Education Association, Sophomore Council and President of Galloway Dormitory. She is an Elementary Education major and the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Everett Vinson, Little Rock.

Keenan Williams was a member of Alpha Psi Omega, the Couch Dormitory Council and Chairman of the Pre-Theology organization.

the primary, even though two of the gubernatorial candidates have yet to consult with him since they filed.

One has. That is James "Uncle Mac" MacKrell, the former Democrat and radio evangelist from Jacksonville.

"He's very personable," Johnson said. "He keeps me informed on what his plans are."

Asked by a reporter of MacKrell, like Rockefeller, had made any significant contribution to the party organization, Johnson said, "Well, I gave him a URF (United Republican Fund) card."

The Rev. R. J. Hampton of North Little Rock stopped by the GOP offices in Little Rock on June 16, when he filed for the race, but did not stay long enough to see Johnson. Hampton is the first black candidate in decades to run for governor.

Lester Gibbs came by the GOP headquarters to file when he entered the race, but Johnson happened to be away at time. Johnson later dropped in to observe Gibbs while the candidate was filing in the secretary of state's office.

Some information is being reserved until after the primaries and then will be made available to the party nominees for the general election, Johnson said.

One such item is a summary of voting history of the state, county by county.

"It is under lock and key and I've got the key," Johnson said.

The profile reflects voting habits in recent elections and covers the more than 2,500 precincts in the state. A Dallas, Tex., research firm collated the data which had been collected by the GOP and supplied a computerized composite

Chairman of Party on Spot

By TOMMY YATES

HOLLY GROVE, Ark. (AP)—

Mrs. Kirby Thompson of Holly Grove says she feels she has got a tiger by the tail and can't turn it loose.

Mrs. Thompson, a grandmother, was referring to her job as acting chairman of the American Party in Arkansas, which she assumed at the party's recent convention in Little Rock after Chairman Walter Carruth of Lexa resigned following his being nominated as the party's candidate for governor.

And Mrs. Thompson said in a telephone interview that she did not think she would like to have the job on a permanent basis. She said there had been "hints" as to whether she would like to have the job permanently but "I reject it at the moment until I find out exactly what I'm doing." She said there would have to be "very extenuating circumstances" before she would.

One of the major reasons she did not want the job permanently, she said, is because "any organization of this scope should be headed by a man."

Asked if she meant women were not equal to men, she said, "In many respects they are not, (but) intelligently I think they are."

"I still believe this is a man's world," she said. "As a matter of fact, I sort of like it that way."

Mrs. Thompson, whose husband, H. L., owns a drug store in Holly Grove and is chairman of the Monroe County APA committee, said her husband would like to have the party chairman post but could not because he was the only druggist in town and could not leave his work.

She said she has been doing mostly secretarial work since becoming acting chairman and has not formulated any plans for the elections because "it's too soon for that right now since we are not having primaries."

The APA has three candidates seeking constitutional offices.

They are Carruth for governor, John Norman Warnock of Camden for attorney general and Hubert L. Blanton of Hughes for lieutenant governor.

"I believe it's too soon to tell how the party will fare in the elections, because we don't know yet who our opposition is going to be," she said. "I do think the party will do well. I think we'll surprise everybody."

She said it was possible all three candidates might win "if they get out and apply themselves."

Mrs. Thompson said she did not think the APA offered more opportunities for women in politics than the other parties in the state. "It's just that I like the principles of this one," she said.

"I've always been disappointed in the other two," she said. "I don't see a great deal of difference in the other two."

She said the APA primarily was interested in restoring government to the people and "we are for constitutional government as outlined by our founding fathers."

"Judging from their (Democratic and Republican parties) actions in the last several years, they have made some changes that do not follow the Constitution of the United States," she said.

Mrs. Thompson said she considered herself an independent before joining the American party. She said she started taking an active interest in politics after her three children grew up.

pressed strong desire for the aid money, it is hoped he will sign the measure.

The House last April passed its version of the spending bill, which totaled $4.13 billion. The two versions now go to conference where it appears the Senate total likely will be trimmed.

The Dade County School Board in Miami, Fla., increased its budget for police and guards from $350,000 to a projected $1.2 million in one year after whites learned of lunch-money shake-downs in once all-black schools.

And in Houston, Texas, whites are demanding that dilapidated schools once attended only by blacks be fixed up now that white children will be attending them.

Dade's chairman, Holmes Braddock, told the House Education Committee Thursday of the Miami situation.

"These extortions and shake-downs are problems that always existed, especially black child against black, but unfortunately the whites never cared, until now they are aware of them for the first time," he said.

George Oser, secretary of the trustees of the Houston school board, said parents by the thousands objected when the newly elected board revealed a minority-majority transfer plan which in most cases will send children to their nearest school.

"Parents had been driving by schools for years, schools that were dilapidated but hidden perhaps by shrubs or a viaduct but were totally segregated. Now, for the first time, people are realizing the nearest school is not the one they want their child to attend," he said.

"At one heated civic club meeting where I spoke, a parent got up and said, 'We drove over and looked at Williams School. There are open ditches around the school and it is in disrepair. How can you require us to send our children to that school?'" lican candidates by making a good record in Washington.

—Handshaking well-wishers at a Marine air base near here, he disclosed he will make a "final report" Tuesday on the entry of U.S. ground forces in Cambodia. The exact format of the report has not been determined.

At the same stop, Nixon announced he will appear live on the three major television networks for an hour Wednesday, at 10 p.m. EDT, to answer foreign affairs questions posed by network newsmen John Chancellor of NBC, Eric Sevareid of CBS and Howard K. Smith of ABC.

Nixon even added a social note: He and wife Pat will go to nearby Newport Beach Saturday for the wedding of a niece.

The President was playing host today to some 50 editors, publishers and broadcast industry executives. He arranged for them to be briefed before and after a presidential lunch by Dr. Henry A. Kissinger and other White House foreign policy advisers.

The chief executive's St. Louis speech was delivered in more personal and emotional terms than he normally employs and won prolonged and repeated applause from a crowd of 14,000 attending the 50th anniversary convention of the United States Jaycees.

Although his theme was that "it is time to stand up and speak about what is right about America," he actually addressed himself to some of the country's major problems.

He stated, for example, that the subject of race relations "it not perhaps discussed as frankly and candidly as it should be."

After adding that each individual must make a personal contribution to racial harmony, he declared:

"I believe in the American dream. I have seen it come true in my own life. But speaking also in broader terms, we can fulfill the American dream only when every American has an equal opportunity to fulfill his own dream."

As for the generation gap, Nixon said, "it is certainly no comfort to me" that "a majority of Americans overwhelmingly disapprove of student demonstrations and student strikes."

He said promises to end the Vietnam war and clean up the environment "will not be enough." He concluded that unless older Americans understand and honor the fact that young Americans "think in idealistic and spiritual terms," the generation gap will not be bridged.

BATTLE OVER

Asia policy.

But Allott introduced his proposal as an amendment to the foreign military sales measure that has been the vehicle for the current debate on the U.S. role in Cambodia.

Under the agreement reached Thursday to wrap up the seven week Cambodia talkathon, Allott's amendment will be voted on Monday. This eliminates the possibility of the extended debate the Democrats wanted, and Allott says his measure will be defeated.

The motives behind Allott's amendment drew expressions of outrage from the sponsors of the original proposal. "Members are offended by these tactics," McGovern said after Allott introduced his amendment.

The Allott amendment is the second GOP attempt to steal the thunder of administration opponents.

The Senate Wednesday voted 81 to 10 to repeal the 1964 Tonkin Gulf resolution which former President Lyndon Johnson used to escalate the war.

Should the Republican-sponsored amendment get through the House—as now appears likely—it would give President Nixon a chance to make a symbolic gesture of his desire to wind down the war.

It also would take much of the sting out of a separate resolution repealing the Tonkin Gulf measure which administration foes had also planned to debate at length later in the summer.

Allott moved shortly after agreement was reached for a final vote on the military sales measure at 4 p.m. Tuesday—the very day President Nixon said he would have all U.S. troops out of Cambodia.

While denying they were stalling, Republicans have managed to keep debate going with one amendment after another until President Nixon had a chance to fulfill his pledge that troops would be out of Cambodia by June 30.

Two hours before the final vote, the Senate will vote on the crucial amendment sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, that would bar use of funds to support almost any kind of military activity in Cambodia without prior consultation with Congress.

With the legal significance of the Cooper-Church amendment somewhat in doubt after adoption of several amendments to it, it is expected to pass handily.

The key vote now appears to be shaping up on the Allott amendment with administration critics planning to try to table it and hold to their intention of bringing it up under the Hatfield and McGovern names later.

Cong Steps Up Attack on Cambodia

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia

(AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops launched a new attack on Kompong Speu early today. They also imperiled an important supply depot at Long Vek, 20 miles north of Phnom Penh, and for the first time threatened Oudong, site of ancient Buddhist monasteries and tombs 20 miles northwest of the capital.

The attacks marked a continuance of the pressure which Cambodian military officials say has Phnom Penh as the ultimate objective.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command in Saigon announced that a U.S. Navy escort plane attacked gun positions deep inside North Vietnam Thursday after the guns fired on a reconnaissance aircraft the Navy plane was escorting.

The attack 15 miles northwest of the coastal city of Vinh and about 155 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone was the first such reported since May 25.

"There was no damage to U.S. aircraft," the command said. It gave no assessment of damage to the North Vietnamese positions.

Since the U.S. bombing halt over North Vietnam on Nov. 1, 1968, U.S. planes have continued to fly reconnaissance missions over the North with armed escorts. The Pentagon said in May American planes had been fired upon and had returned fire more than 60 times, and nine planes have been reported shot down.

The Cambodian military spokesman said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces attacked barracks and a provincial military headquarters at 2 a.m. today at Kompong Speu, a provincial capital 30 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. Government and South Vietnamese forces recaptured the city in a major battle 10 days ago.

Kompong Speu is on the only highway open between Phnom Penh and Kompong Som, Cambodia's chief port and the site of its only oil refinery. The spokesman said the road was still open to small cars but not to the big fuel trucks that bring oil and gas to the capital.

The spokesman said the fighting at Long Vek was threatening a large warehouse complex which American foreign aid provided before the United States and Cambodia broke diplomatic relations in 1963. That battle also closed the highway to Battambang in northwestern Cambodia, the country's second largest city.

There were no details on the clash at Oudong, one of Cambodia's most beautiful cities. More fighting also was reported around Siem Reap, near the ancient ruins of Angkor. Other Cambodian troops were said to be moving toward the provincial capital of Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh, where the situation was reported quiet following several days of intermittent fighting.

Alomar Runs Hit Streak to 20 Games

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
A Joe DiMaggio he is not, but slugging Sandy Alomar is closing in on the longest hitting streak in nine American League seasons.

"I'd like to hit in 57 straight games, but the main thing is winning," the peppery little second baseman of the California Angels said Thursday night after stroking two hits and running his string to 20 straight games as the Angels whipped Chicago 7-3.

Alomar was referring to the former New York Yankee great's 56-game hitting streak of 1941 which hasn't been threatened since. However, he is only four games away from the 24 straight that Lennie Green of the Minnesota Twins hit in 1961. The 5-foot-9, 155-pounder equaled the 1969 best of 20 by Ted Uhlaender.

In other AL games, the Yankees stopped Cleveland 3-1, Baltimore bombed Boston 13-8 in 14 innings, Detroit nipped Washington 2-1, and Milwaukee dropped Minnesota 4-1.

In the National League, New York trounced Chicago 8-3, Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 3-2 and Philadelphia tipped Montreal 3-2 in 11 innings. The Los Angeles at Atlanta game was called by rain.

The 26-year-old Alomar, a native of Puerto Rico, a .238 lifetime batter in three full major league seasons, lifted his 1970 average to .271 with his hits off White Sox southpaw Tommy John.

John, 5-11, was reached for six runs in five innings but three were unearned due to three Chicago errors. John also tossed three wild pitches.

Left-hander Clyde Wright picked up his 10th victory of the season for the Angels and drove in four runs with a pair of singles and a double. He was lifted in the eighth after surrendering a two-run homer to Bill Melton. Tom McCraw also homered for the Sox.

To complete the evening, a pretty young miss dashed from the stands in the third inning and planted a kiss on the cheek of Angels' outfielder Billy Cowan while he was at bat.

If apparently was the same young female who last year kissed Atlanta's Cleve Boyer and Washington's Frank Howard.

It apparently unsettled John, who immediately uncorked a wild pitch but Cowan wasn't rattled, drilling a triple after the incident.

Roy White drove in all three New York runs with a triple and double, helping Fritz Peterson pick up his 10th victory.

White, hitting a robust .347 and tied for second in the league with Baltimore's Boog Powell with 52 runs batted in, punched an opposite field triple to left in the first inning, knocking in the first Yankee run and looped a two-run double to right, driving in a pair in the third.

Peterson was tagged for nine hits and one run in five innings, but shut off the Indians without a hit after that.

Bobby Murcer, the Yanks center fielder who had rapped four homers in as many official at bats Wednesday tying a major league record, walked in the first but was stopped in the third when he popped to second.

Baltimore came from seven runs down and then scored six times in the 14th inning to down the Red Sox. The Orioles tied it in the ninth at 7-7 then unloaded in the 14th on run-scoring hits by Don Buford, Frank Robinson and two-run doubles by Powell and Merv Rettenmund.

Billy Conigliaro and Jerry Moses homered for the Red Sox while Frank Robinson, Rettenmund and Dave Johnson rapped blasts for the Orioles.

Lew Krausse blanked the Twins on four hits and the Brewers jumped on starter Jim Perry, 10-6 for three runs in the opening inning on run-scoring hits by Dave May and Bob Burda and Ted Kubiak's infield out.

Gates Brown drilled a two-out tie-breaking pinch single in the seventh for the Tigers' win. Brown batted for winner Les Cain, 7-2, and delivered his hit to right, scoring Bill Freehan who had singled.

Only one other fourth round match was scheduled for today — between Carmichael and Bob Hewitt, South African Davis Cup star.

Our nation's first industry was glassmaking, which began about 1608 at Jamestown, Va.

Hinson Leads Big Rattler Killed Tourney at Cleveland

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Larry Hinson, a highly personable young man who overcame the handicap of a polio-withered left arm to become one of the most consistent money-winners on the pro golf tour, almost made a boo-boo after taking the first-round lead in the $150,000 Cleveland Open with a five-under-par 65.

"I haven't won yet this year," the 25-year-old boyish blond said Thursday, "but I'm playing good enough to win. When I do, I hope it's Dow Jones."

He surveyed the somewhat surprised faces of the Cleveland reporters than hastily added, "Of course, I'd like to win here, too."

Dow Jones late this summer is the richest stop on the pro tour, a $300,000 event with a $60,000 prize to the winner.

Hinson ran in a 40-foot birdie putt on the 18th green to break out of a logjam of players and take sole control of the lead over a group of five others who matched 66s.

They included Lee Trevino, who said he had to win $2,000 this week to break even; Dave Hill, playing the 6,661-yard par-71 Aurora Country Club course for the first time; rookie Bill Brask; Grier Jones, and Tommy Aaron.

Bob Menne, Dick Carnody and Billy Maxwell shot 67s while those in the 68 group included Bert Greene, Tom Weiskopf, Bob Charles, Bob Murphy, Frank Beard and Mason Rudolph. Defending champion Charles Coody had a 72, well back.

Among the missing are recently crowned U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Gary Player, all preparing for the British Open. It was their absence that prompted Tournament Director Paul Warren to press Trevino to enter the event he had planned to skip.

"I asked my wife if I could play at Cleveland," Trevino said. "No way," she said. Then she said she'd make a deal with me. She'd let me play in Cleveland if I'd take her to the British Open. So I've got to win $2,000 this week just to break even."

Hinson, who won the New Orleans Open last year in his second season on the pro tour, has failed to win so far in 1970 but says he's playing better than ever before.

"I'm tickled to death," he said. "This course beat me to death last year. I think I finished last. I don't know if I'm playing that much better than last year but I'm thinking an awful lot better. I just hope it keeps up for three more days."

TRIPLES—Tovar, Minnesota, 7; 3 tied with 5.
HOME RUNS—F. Howard, Washington, 20; J. Powell, Baltimore, 18; Killebrew, Minnesota, 18.
STOLEN BASES—Harper, Milwaukee, 25; Stroud, Washington, 22.

U.S. Horse Favored in Irish Classic

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Odds-makers are saying American-owned Nijinsky will win the $136,000 Irish Sweepstakes Derby at the Curragh on Saturday and the other 13 likely runners might just as well stay at home.

The Irish are hurrying to bet on the unbeaten 3-year-old colt owned by millionaire Charles Engelhard of Far Hills, N.J.

But it's an expensive business. The bookmakers rate Nijinsky a 2-7 certainty. That means you bet $7 to win $2.

The second favorite, French-trained Roll of Honor, was withdrawn Thursday leaving Meadowville, ridden by British champion jockey Lester Piggott, second best at 10-1.

Seven lucky people around the world will pick up $125,000 whichever horse wins.

These are the first prizes in the sweeps draw and every one who draws a horse wins money.

Nijinsky, trained by Ireland's Vincent O'Brien and ridden by Liam Ward, will be trying to make it nine wins in a row. His last victory was in the English Derby at Epsom, where he spreadeagled a high-class field.

But this may have the leprechauns at work. Only one horse — Santa Claus in 1964 — has completed the English-Irish Derby double.

Two years ago, Engelhard's Sir Ivor was backed like a certainty after winning at Epsom. He lost.

Seattle Backs Clay Fight

SEATTLE (AP) — The Washington State Athletic Commission decides Friday if Cassius Clay will meet Joe Frazier for the heavyweight championship of the world in Seattle.

The commission will rule whether Clay gets a license to meet Frazier in a fight probably staged in Seattle in September. The meeting will be held in Tacoma, Wash.

A group of businessmen from Tacoma are hopeful of staging such a match and are optimistic about Clay getting approval from the commission.

If the Seattle bout falls through, a Detroit group is ready to stage the match.

Commission member James Rondeau said he favors licensing Clay, Commission Chairman Harry Lynch said he opposes the licenses and commissioner W. R. "Red" Reese said he could go either way.

The 28-year-old Clay was stripped of his title in 1967 when he refused induction in the military. In the three years following his conviction on charges of violating the Selective Services Act, Clay has been refused licenses to fight. He shunned induction as a conscientious objector. He is a Black Muslim minister and calls himself Muhammad Ali.

The recent moves to get Clay a license follow a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court redefining conscientious objector status.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Overactive Thyroid Gland
A Cause of Toxic Goiter

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—How high is a protein-bound iodine (PBI) test of 8.7? Would this cause me to be overweight?

A—The normal range for PBI is 4 to 8 but persons with an overactive thyroid may have readings of 20 or more. Your level shows a moderate increase but any increase would be more likely to cause a loss rather than a gain of weight.

Q—What causes an enlarged thyroid and what can be done for it?

A—An exophthalmic or toxic goiter is caused by an overactive thyroid. A non-toxic goiter may be caused by an iodine deficiency; such drugs as thiocyanates, para-amino salicylic acid and butazolidine, or pituitary failure. In some cases no cause can be found. The treatment would depend on the cause.

Q—Without wearing lighter clothing what would make me feel colder than others in the same room?

A—The most likely cause is an underactive thyroid or poor circulation.

Q—What is the cause of myxedema?

A—This is a type of swelling of the tissues caused by an underactive thyroid.

Q—My doctor says I have an underactive thyroid. He is giving me Proloid. What are the side effects?

A—Proloid is a purified thyroid extract. If the dosage is properly adjusted there should be no side effects. Too large a dosage may cause nervous tension, insomnia and a fast pulse.

Richardson Takes Over at HEW
By G.C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson has officially transferred his diplomatic skills to the troubled Department of Health, Education and Welfare where he faces immediate, knotty problems.
The former undersecretary of state, was sworn in as the No. 1 man at HEW Wednesday and was immediately faced with problems endemic to HEW—civil rights and consumer protection, among others.
HEW civil rights officials, for example, have readied a letter for the secretary's signature calling on southern districts to end in-school discrimination as well as segregation this fall.
Officials of the Food and Drug Administration will urge Richardson to modify a controversial department decision to al-

Mr. Ramsey and his wife Patty will be ministering to military personnel stationed in Taiwan, during their first term of missionary service. STRENGTHEN THROUGH

FAMILY TIES REGULAR WORSHIP

That Word in Anger...

You spoke it loudly and without concern, but did it solve any problems for you?

You told him off, but did you get the order? Sure, relief at the time may seem sweet and bear up your own ego, but soon a dirty, gray regret sets in.

Count ten??? Ah, you'd better count to a hundred or more and, by so doing, have a word fitly spoken. God said, "Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools." Eccl. 7:9. Angry words can't be called back. One can't unsay them. The damage they do may be irreparable. Want to quit your foolishness? Then, seek out righteous men for your companions and ask God to help stay your tongue for, "He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly."

Coaches All-America Is Success

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — This South Plains city, a loser in a deadly brush with a killer tornado May 11, has turned the Coaches All-America football game into a financial winner after flops in Atlanta and Buffalo, N.M.

The break-even point has been reached and passed for Saturday night's 10th annual East-West game in Jones stadium before a national television audience.

Ticket sales reached 30,032 Thursday and with the more than $100,000 pitched in by the American Broadcasting Co., the game is a money-maker in its first try in this football-mad town—home of Texas Tech University.

Officials said a crowd of about 25,000 was needed to meet expenses. And this figure already has been assured.

Wayne Fennell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "Bill Murray (president of the American Football Coaches Association), had three calls from other cities (Memphis, Oakland, and San Diego) wanting the game."

Fennell said, "Our first reaction was to cancel. But it would have been the worst thing in the world we could have done. I saw (Texas Tech athletic director) J. T. King and told him 'You get the lights replaced on the stadium and we'll get the streets cleaned up.' He beat us."

East coach Charles McClendon of Louisiana State and West Coach Dan Devine of Missouri have lavished praise on the way the game has been handled.

LSU fullback Eddie Ray said the players have been caught up in the spirit of the community.

Officials hoped for a crowd of near 40,000 for the 9:30 p.m. EDT kickoff that will feature two high-powered offenses.

Temperatures reached near 100 for Thursday's practice sessions. The West worked out on the new artificial turf in Jones Stadium and the mercury must have reached near 115 on the floor of the stadium.

But Devine had this philosophy for his players: "I've been a helluva lot hotter. The heat won't bother you if you don't think about it."

McClendon has named Gordon Slade of Davidson as his starting quarterback and Mike McCoy and Bob Olson of Notre Dame and Indiana's John Isenbarger will captain the West team.

Devine has yet to name his captains and starting quarterback although most observers feel he will pass over his own Terry McMillan and start Dennis Shaw, San Diego State star, who has been drawing praise from the professional football scouts in attendance with his accurate passing.

Red and White Flags for State Police

State Police Director Ralph Scott said today that State Police cars will fly red and white flags during the Fourth of July Holiday period.

In making the announcement, he said this will serve as a constant reminder of the importance of highway safety.

Scott asked motorists to burn their headlights during the daylight hours as an added safety reminder to other motorists. The red flags will only be flown in those counties which record a traffic death.

Trooper Gary Robertson and Trooper William Ron Brooks prepare for 4th of July Holiday as State Police Director Ralph Scott looks on.

Parents Angered by Recruiting Tactics of College Coaches

MANSFIELD, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. James McMillen is thinking of writing about college athlete recruiting. She ought to know something about the subject. Two of her sons have been the target of basketball coaches.

Mrs. McMillen took notes on the technique of recruiters from more than 200 colleges, who in recent months besieged her son, Tom, with offers to come to their institutions of high learning. She and her husband, a dentist, aren't happy with what they saw.

"This is a nasty, dirty business," said Dr. McMillen. "The bad publicity hurt our family. We are grief stricken. I suppose it's right that the parents get the blame. I do not want to be quoted further."

The McMillens turned their anger on recruiting practices after their 6-foot-10 inch son who scored 3,608 points for Mansfield High signed a letter of intent to enter the University of North Carolina.

"That boy is not going with our blessings," said Mrs. McMillen. "We absolutely will not sign the grant, now or ever," she said with a tone that smacked finality.

Maybe Mrs. McMillen is saving her best shots for that article she may write. Neither she nor her husband would say why they didn't want Tom to go to North Carolina of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The 18-year-old McMillen signed a letter of intent for North Carolina Wednesday night at an informal party in Elmira, N.Y. He said the school met his requirements both academically and athletically.

Apparently they don't meet mom and pop's standards.

Whatever their reasons, the McMillens have thrown a fatal road block in the path of young Tom's desire to go to North Carolina.

James Weaver, commissioner of the ACC, said that unless the parents or guardians sign the letter of intent "he (Tom) may as well not have signed anything."

North Carolina officials confirmed that McMillen's parents had not signed the letter and the boy was free to choose any other school. The mad, mad race to get the All-Pennsylvania star apparently is on again.

McMillen was to have received a new North Carolina scholarship for academically outstanding athletes, providing the maximum financial aid permitted under NCAA rules. He was at the top of his class, president of the student council, a member of the band and a prize winning orator.

The McMillens have two other sons, Jay, 24, who played basketball at Maryland, and Paul, 22, who lives in Chapel Hill, home of North Carolina University.

Mrs. McMillen said she went through the recruiting pains with Jay, "but nothing like this."

4 Die as Jet Hits Homes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An engine failure sent a Navy jet trainer plane crashing into two houses in a residential area Thursday night and caused four deaths—two in the plane and two on the ground—officials said.

About a dozen other persons were injured and four stayed in hospitals overnight.

Navy officials said the F9 Cougar jet was making a practice instrument approach to Kelly Air Force Base when it lost power and nosedived two miles north of the runway. It hit in Southwest 41st Street on the city's West Side and tumbled onto two homes on Luz Avenue, burning both.

Two men aboard the plane were identified by the Navy as Lt. (j.g.) Wesley B. Duerr, 26, an instructor, of Camp Springs, Md., and Lt. (j.g.) John B. Well-er, 25, a student pilot, of Convent, N.J. They were based at Chase Field, a naval auxiliary air station at Beeville, Tex.

The other dead were Saul Martinez, 44, and his son Eduardo, 23, newly returned from fighting in Vietnam.

Bodies of the fliers were found in the street and those of Martinez and his son in their home.

Police said discovery of a body of a cat in a burned car apparently led to a false report that a fifth person had been killed.

Mark Latson, 12, dashed from his home with clothing in flames moments after the plane struck. Hospital attendants described his condition as grave.

Polls Have Bearing on Orange Bowl

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP)—Team selectors for the Orange Bowl football classic admit playing an annual numbers game and it's usually the national collegiate poll that decides who'll play New Year's Day.

"When fans began paying so much attention to football polls, we took notice," said Jack Baldwin, chairman of the bowl's selection committee.

"Sure, we think about the guy in Duluth or Seattle but we bear down to get the teams that rate best, no matter what others might think."

Only once in the past seven years has the Orange Bowl booked a team out of the Associated Press' top 10. That was for New Year's Day 1967 when it overlooked Florida's unranked status in favor of having Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier in the event.

The Orange Bowl Committee depends so strongly on AP rankings that it has tabulated the comparison with other New Year's classics, using a point system to decide which game was best at grabbing Top Ten teams.

Guess who won out? That's right, the Orange Bowl.

The point system revealed that the Miami offering did the top job of signing ranked college elevens, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena was second, Dallas' Cotton Bowl third and the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans fourth.

The Orange Bowl's 14 entries since 1964 have included two No. 1-ranked teams, three ranked No. 2 and one rated third. The top outfit was Alabama both times, in 1965-66.

The Rose Bowl—which automatically takes its teams from the Big Ten and Pacific Eight conferences—has twice had the top-ranked team, had No. 2 once and the third-rated team twice. Its No. 1 pickoffs were Southern Cal in 1968 and Ohio State in '69.

Dallas' classic has also grabbed off two No. 1-ranked teams, both times it was Texas (1964 and 1970) and the Longhorns came automatically as Southwest Conference champions. The Cotton Bowl has also attracted two No. 2 teams and two that were ranked third in the seven-year period.

Sugar Bowl people have been less fortunate pollwise with not a single No. 1 team in seven seasons and the New Orleans game picked up just one school in the top five in that period—third-rated Alabama in 1967.

Television ratings by the Neilson company showed that the Cotton Bowl demanded the largest viewing audience. There were 29 million sets tuned to Dallas while the Rose Bowl lured 27 million and the Orange Bowl 25.6 million.

After the Orange there was a huge dropoff. Mobile's Senior Bowl, an all-star game for college seniors, had an audience of 18 million homes, the Sun Bowl in El Paso drew 14 million sets and the Sugar Bowl 13 million. Memphis' Liberty Bowl had 12 million.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richard Crawford of Bella Vista shot par of 70 Thursday in the opening round of the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf tournament.

R. H. Sikes of Springdale and Miller Barber of Texarkana each had 71 to trail leader Larry Hinson by six strokes.

Corn on Cob Derby Pick in Hollywood

By ED CHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Corn off the Cob, back on the beam after a series of second-place finishes, will try to make the Hollywood Derby his second big stakes win in as many weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gary's colt, winner of the $109,500 Arlington Classic last Saturday, is one of the early favorites for Saturday's 1 1/4-mile, $100,000-added Hollywood Derby at Hollywood Park.

Two other rich stakes up for grabs are the $75,000-added

Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs and the $50,000-added Saranac Handicap for 3-year-olds at Belmont Park.

Before his victory in the Arlington Classic, Corn off the Cob finished second four times in six starts—the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Blue Grass and Jersey Derby. In the other two starts he finished first in the Fountain of Youth and seventh in the Kentucky Derby.

Corn off the Cob, high-weighted at 126 pounds, is expected to vie for early favoritism in the Hollywood Derby with Drs. Miles and Tauber's D-Artagnan, 123, the Cinema Handicap winner. The probable field of 12 also includes Samuel J. Agnew's Terlago, 126, the Santa Anita Derby winner, and Colorado King Jr., 123.

James B. Moseley's perky little filly Drumtop not only will take on the boys in the Massachusetts Handicap at about 1 1/2 miles, she'll do it under high weight of 119 pounds. The race is expected to draw from 10 to 14 including James Cox Brady's Jungle Cove, 115 and Fred Pastor's Blasting Charge, 114.

Her-Jac Stable's Naskra, third in the Belmont Stakes, and Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen, the 1969 2-year-old champion who had been a disappointment this year, head up a likely field of seven for the one-mile Saranac. Silent Screen gets high weight of 123 pounds, six more than Naskra.

VOTE July 14th For What You Honestly Feel Is Best For ALL Citizens of Hope

As for us, we shall vote to retain the City Manager form of Government.

Having lived in Hope all our lives under both the City Manager and Mayor-Council governments, we feel we would be taking a step backward to return to the Mayor-Council form of government.

REMEMBER — When Hope was hopelessly in debt within the last 25 years no way out. — Under City Manager form of government with a trained administrator, subject to direction of our publicly elected commissioners, we got out of the red and into the black.

REMEMBER — When a pepluar Butcher, Baker, or Candlestick Maker, untrained in administering municipal affairs, could be elected Chief Administrative Officer of Hope, strictly on popularity rather than ability. — Proper administration of municipal affairs demands training and ability.

REMEMBER — When every change in Administrations brought changes in the personnel of the police and fire departments as well as other departments at the whim of the new administration. — Under City Manager government these people have job security so long as they get the job done, and the City has a continuity of services by experienced people.

REMEMBER — When it was possible for a political debt to be repaid by personal favors for friends of the Administration. Under City Manager Government friendship and support do not buy favors for any one of us.

REMEMBER — When minority groups were sometimes mistreated by some of those in authority. — Under City Manager Government this is not prevalent.

REMEMBER — When two or more Council Members, chancing to meet over a cup of coffee, would make it a point to discuss some minor city affair and then legally bill the City for a committee meeting for each of them in addition to the regular salary. — Under City Manager form of Government the democratically elected commissioners are paid nothing. They give their services and sometimes their only reward is severe criticism.

You vote as you will, and should you choose to vote to return to the Mayor-Council form of government, we will still be good friends, but we sincerely hope you will and urge you to join us in voting to retain our progressive City Manager form of Government and not go back to the horse and buggy days.

TO RETAIN THE CITY MANAGER FORM OF GOVERNMENT, MARK YOUR BALLOT ON JULY 14 IN THE FOLLOWING MANNER:

FOR the proposition to reorganize the City of Hope under the MAYOR COUNCIL form of government.

AGAINST the proposition to reorganize the City of Hope under the MAYOR COUNCIL form of government.

Signed: Henry Haynes

Lifelong Resident of Hope

KWKH Commentary

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following was transcribed by the editor over the telephone to Shreveport this morning and was broadcast by Radio Station KWKH on its 12:30 newscast.

Nowadays we hear much about the communications gap between the young and the old, and in this day of inquiry and research there are legions of adults who claim they are working on the problem.

But is there a problem? This Arkansas editor heard a speaker at the Arkansas Press Association convention in Hot Springs this month say that the "communications gap" is a fiction, and the uproar about it is ridiculous.

The speaker was the Rev. George W. Tribou, principal of Catholic High School for Boys in Little Rock. What he said, as quoted by the Associated Press, was:

"There SHOULD BE a communications gap between the mature and the young.

"If you can talk on an equal level with an 18-year-old, you've got a problem.

"I don't have man-to-man talks with high-school students.

"I have man-to-boy talks."

Better than most editors can do Father Tribou told it like it is — and left behind him an army of confused psychiatrists.

But there are problems between adults today which aren't solved as quickly as that of the generation gap.

Currently we are getting the returns from the 1970 population census — and many are the complaints about a "short count."

Cities big and small profess to feel frustrated because the 1970 census shows them to have made little or no gain since 1960. Up to now we have measured urban progress largely by chamber of commerce standards. But these are changing times — and our local census figure is no longer the all-important standard of human well-being that it once was.

My town of Hope and its neighbors, Nashville and Prescott, were lucky to squeeze through the 1970 census with small gains — from 3.7 to 11.3 per cent. For these small gains we are thankful — doubly thankful, because population growth in the metropolitan areas has proven to be more of a curse than a blessing.

It is passing strange that in a day when men's minds are so engrossed in scientific research about things, so little time has been spent on the qualities that are required to make people comfortable and happy.

The exodus of people from the big cities to the suburbs is its own commentary on human beings' search for tranquility and a better life.

It's not your town's census figure that's so important today — rather, it's what kind of town you live in, and where that town is situated in America.

We are fortunate to be a part of the great Southwest, far removed from the troubles of the big cities — one of the few remaining wide open spaces where Americans feel they can still work out their own destiny. And that's more important than a mere figure in the census-taker's book.

2 Backing-Up Cars Collide

Hope Police Dept. investigated an accident at 4:15 p.m. Thursday at South Walnut St. when a car driven by Earnest Gurlis of Rt. 2, Rosston, backed into a car driven by Tommy Dean Adams of Fulton, who was also backing out of a driveway.

Minor damage resulted. No charges were filed by Officer James Neal.

Bids July 17 on Printing New Charter

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Thursday that plans had been completed for the distribution of the official copies of the proposed new state constitution.

Bryant said legal advertisements required by law were to be published today in the Arkansas Gazette and the Arkansas Democrat.

The secretary of state is to open bids at 10 a.m. July 17 on the contract for printing 825,000 copies of the proposed charter. The printed document is to be distributed as an eight-page tabloid supplement to newspapers in the third week in August.

The legislature appropriated about $156,000 to pay the cost of printing and distributing the proposed new document, which will be voted on in the November general election.

Mr. Bryant said the costs would have been much higher if newspapers had not chosen to cooperate.

"I don't think the people of Arkansas fully appreciate the contribution the newspapers have made to make sure that the voters receive official copies at the most reasonable cost," Bryant said.

Newspapers conveyed to the legislature last year a willingness to accept the charter for Miss Woolfolk was awarded national second place in the category of a daily publication under 20,000 circulation that is regularly edited by a woman. She is the editor of the West Memphis Evening Times.

All This Uproar Is About One Lady's Ailing Pet Bird

NEW YORK (AP) — Driver, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, please. And can you hurry? I've got a sick bird back here."

The New York hackie turns around in his seat, stares at whatever I have wrapped up in the towel and shakes his head. I lift the towel from the cage and peek at the little creature named Bookie. He looks terrified. Reassurance, I figure.

"Don't worry, sweetie. Mother is taking you to the very best bird hospital in New York City and everything will be all right. You will have the very best on care. Don't worry."

"Don't worry, sweetie, but please chirp once for the driver's sake."

Chirpless we arrive. I rush him downstairs to the bird hospital. The bird lady is on the telephone. She cuts off the lady who wants to know how to clip her parrot's toenails.

"That bird needs immediate attention," she decrees. She grabs the cage, sweeps past me. I start to follow. She stops me.

"But he's my son," I protest. She smiles. We're instant friends. I still can't come to the inner sanctum of the intensive

Terse Mansfield Is Honored by Senate, Its Leader 9 Years

By LAWRENCE L. KNUSTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the object of their affections out of sight but not out of mind, the Senate has paid a wordy tribute to Mike Mansfield, known for limiting his remarks to "Yep," "Nope," and "Maybe."

The occasion Thursday was to honor the Montana Democrat for serving as majority leader of the Senate longer than anyone before him—nine years and 173 days.

That put him nine days on his nearest rival, Kentucky Democrat Alben Barkley, who held the longevity record until he became vice president in 1949 under Harry S. Truman.

Taking time out from debate on the U.S. involvement in Cambodia, senators of both parties took the floor for more than two hours in their praise for Mansfield whose own speeches are notable for being terse and to the point.

Assistant Democratic leader Edward M. Kennedy noted that fact, saying some politicians answer reporters' questions with long-winded phrases such as "I want to make one thing perfectly clear," or "Let me say this about that."

Kennedy said Mansfield has five standard responses: "Yep," "Nope," "Maybe," "Could be," and "Don't know."

But senators agreed the highlight of the tributes was by no means the shortest.

It came in the form of a 14-stanza poem written and recited by Vermont Sen. George Aiken, 77-year-old dean of Senate Republicans who has been Mansfield's steady breakfast companion for more than 10 years.

Aiken's debut as a Senate poet traced the mansfield-career in verse from the point nearly 10 years ago when Mansfield got the majority leader's job.

Mansfield, answering not even with a "can't say," or a "don't know," remained silent and modestly out of sight until the tributes were over.

Education Bill Over Nixon Limit

By LAWRENCE L. KNUSTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a $4.75 billion education money bill that is nearly $800 million more than President Nixon requested but includes the initial funds wanted by the White House for aiding desegregating schools.

The bill was passed 74 to 4 early today, capping a long session that didn't end until after midnight in the second half of a two-session day designed to clear a work load backed up by the debate over Cambodia.

The final approval came after the Senate passed 70 to 18 an amendment to provide $150 million as the first installment of the $1.5 billion Nixon wants to help Southern school districts in their desegregation efforts.

Inclusion of the $150 million made the possibility of a Nixon veto uncertain. He rejected a similar bill earlier this year because the appropriation was more than he asked, and some Republicans had warned against a veto this time if the total went far above Nixon's request.

But because a share of the overage is due to the $150 million and because Nixon has ex-

Battle Over War Funds in Senate

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans, having agreed to end the long debate over Cambodia, are maneuvering to blunt one of the most potent weapons left to administration critics.

Sen. Gordon Allott, a Colorado Republican and staunch defender of Nixon Vietnam policy, unexpectedly introduced a measure Wednesday to bar funds for fighting in Southeast Asia except when necessary to protect U.S. troop withdrawals or when war has been officially declared.

An identical proposal, known as "The Amendment to End the War," was introduced originally by two of the Senate's most vocal doves—Democrat George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore.

Their plan called for bringing up the amendment later in the session as a rider to a defense procurement appropriations bill in another effort at a full-scale debate on Nixon's Southeast

Bernadette Devlin to Go to Jail

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Belfast Appeal Court ruled today that Bernadette Devlin must go to prison.

A warrant for her arrest was to be issued later today.

The court rejected an application from Miss Devlin, the youngest member of the British House of Commons, to appeal to the House of Lords against a six-month sentence given her for incitement to riot and rioting. The House of Lords is Britain's highest court.

The 23-year-old Roman Catholic militant was first sentenced in Londonderry last Dec. 22 for her activities during street fighting last fall.

On Monday, Northern Ireland's lord chief justice, Lord McDermott, rejected her appeal against the sentence. Her defense lawyer then applied for permission to take the appeal to the Lordfin London, and this was turned down today.

Miss Devlin won re-election in the British general election last week, and she is not expected to lose her seat because she goes to prison. The House of Commons will have to vote whether she remains a member, and it seemed most unlikely that with the threat of renewed religious warfare hanging over Northern Ireland, the legislators would inflame the Roman Catholic minority by ousting the young woman who has come to be known as their Joan of Arc.

Israel-Syria Battle Now in 3rd Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel and Syria locked in large-scale combat on the ground and in the air today for the third straight day. Syria claimed six Israeli jets downed; the Israelis claimed two Syrian MIGs, and admitted the loss of one Israeli jet.

Israeli jets attacked Syrian army camps near Damascus for the second day in succession, and large-scale dogfights raged through the Syrian skies. Then Syria announced that Israeli tanks had crossed the cease-fire line on the Golan Heights.

"Violent fighting along the frontline is still continuing," said Damascus Radio shortly after noon. "The enemy is throwing his armored units against our positions, and our forces are engaging them."

Syrian anti-aircraft fire tore a three-foot hole in the wing of an Italian DC8 jetliner as it flew 31,000 feet over Damascus, but the plane made a safe landing in Beirut and none of the 104 persons aboard was hurt. The Syrian hit, believed to be a missile, punctured a fuel tank containing more than 100 tons of aviation kerosene and knocked out the two port engines. Members of the crew said it was a "miracle" they were able to reach the Lebanese capital.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser meanwhile rejected the new U.S. plan for Middle East peace, charging it would leave Israel in possession of the Golan Heights territory which it seized from Syria in the 1967 war.

The Israeli government called home its ambassador from Washington to discuss the American proposal, but the semi-official Jerusalem newspaper Davar called it "a bad plan which can lead not to a permanent settlement but to an immediate conflagration."

Syria said 40 of its MIGs rose to battle the Israeli air force, the largest number of interceptors the Syrians have admitted sending up in a single engagement since the 1967 war.

The communique said the Syrian pilots had shot down five planes, while anti-aircraft fire from the ground brought down a sixth. It said two of the planes crashed in Syrian territory, their pilots were captured, and one of them was being treated for injuries.

The communique added that no Syrian planes had been hit.

The Israeli military command said its planes attacked the same three major Syrian bases hit Thursday: at Qatana, 16 miles southwest of Damascus; Kiswah, 10 miles south of the city, and Seijen, 60 miles south-east of the capital.

Smith Road Favored by Compton

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Robert Compton of El Dorado, a Democratic candidate for governor, endorsed Thursday night the controversial Eureka Springs road project.

Compton told 300 Democrats at a dinner sponsored by Carroll County party members that the loss of the road would be a "crippling blow" to the tourist industry of the area.

"This road should be built," he said.

Transportation Secretary John Volpe has rejected federal financing for the road, which has aroused opposition because it would pass the religious projects of Gerald L. K. Smith.

Compton was one of four Democratic gubernatorial candidates to speak at the dinner. The others were former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell and Dale Bumpers of Charleston. Mrs. Hayes McClerkin, wife of the speaker of the Arkansas House, who also is a candidate, represented her husband.

U.S. Representation at Vatican Draws Almost No Protest

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With a new presidential envoy, Henry Cabot Lodge, scheduled to take up duties at the Vatican in the next few days, the reaction among Protestants has been relatively muted compared to the hubbub the issue aroused in the past.

Some have protested. Most, however, have taken the decision calmly, without objections.

American Roman Catholic leaders themselves, who had shown scant concern with the matter since speculation about it first arose a year ago, have registered only low-key approval at President Nixon's recent appointment.

A "ho-hum reaction," summed up the National Catholic Reporter. A "bundle of pluses and minuses," said the Jesuit weekly, America.

"Both Protestants and Catholics have been monumentally unresponsive," says the Rev. Dr. Dean M. Kelley, director for governmental relations of the National Council of Churches. He said Nixon tempered the impact by naming only a personal representative, rather than a regular ambassador.

The changed outlook also reflected two major developments in religious life in the last decade: the upsurge of Catholic Protestantism, and the waning Catholic interest in ties making the Church so-called "partners of the prince."

Some Protestant leaders, however, saw the step as a one-sided gesture, an irrelevant throwback to a past-age of Church-state entanglements and extensive Vatican territorial jurisdiction.

"It's basically an outdated kind of relationship," commented the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, an American Presbyterian leader, now general secretary of the World Council of Churches, with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

Noting that Nixon cited the Pope's position as an "outstanding moral leader" as a reason for needing contacts with him, Dr. Blake suggested the same reason could justify liaison with World Council moral leaders.

However, he said most Christian leaders—Catholics and Protestants alike—were more interested in interchurch relationships and common mission than in diplomatic formalities with governments.

Sharpest protest to the naming of Lodge, an Episcopalian, as the President's Vatican envoy came from Baptists, and from a group opposing church-state ties, Americans United for Separation of Church and State.

Its executive director, Glenn L. Archer, called the appointment "a violation of this nation's tradition of separation of church and state and a false appeal for Catholic votes." He said it was religiously discriminatory, preferring one church over "others which have received no such appointment."

All GOP Men Will Get Fair Shake

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Neal Sox Johnson, Republican party executive director in Arkansas, occupies what could be a ticklish position this summer.

On the one hand, the party's chief individual benefactor, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, is gearing up for a try at a third term.

On the other hand, Rockefeller has three primary election opponents, who are entitled to state party organization assistance equal to that given Rockefeller.

Johnson says all will get fair treatment.

"Any information I make available to one candidate will be made available to all," he said in an interview. "I have not been a hypocrite at all with any of them."

The GOP already is distributing candidate rosters and booklets of background information to the candidates. The data includes the names and addresses of party officials at all levels throughout the state.

He says equitable treatment will be his policy throughout

Override of Hospital Aid Bill Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are optimistic about chances of overriding President Nixon's veto of the popular Hill-Burton hospital aid bill now that the House has re-passed the measure by a big margin.

If the Senate also musters the needed two-thirds margin it would be the first time Congress has enacted legislation over a Nixon veto.

Congress was unable to prevail on the only other bill disallowed by Nixon, a Health, Education and Welfare appropriations bill the President vetoed as inflationary.

In Thursday's House test, 68 Republicans joined 211 Democrats in voting to override the Hill-Burton veto. The President was supported by 95 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

The 279-98 tally gave the bill's supporters 27 votes more than the necessary two-thirds.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told a newsman, "I think we'll have a rough time" trying to sustain the veto in the Senate.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said flatly he would vote to override because "the need for hospital modernization is so great."

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the vote will come next Tuesday afternoon.

Mansfield declined to forecast certain victory, but other Democrats said privately they were quite hopeful. They cited these factors:

—The Senate originally passed the bill—a broader version which was cut down in conference with the House—by 79-0 on April 7.

—Conservative Southern Democrats probably will vote to override because the measure preserves a formula for allocation of the aid which gives extra help to low-income states and thus benefits their region.

—Republicans will be under pressure from state and local officials to support the bill because of a heavy need for expansion and modernization of hospital facilities all over the country.

The bill authorizes $1.26 billion to continue the grants for hospital construction and modernization, although Nixon had asked that further grants be discontinued and loans substituted.

It also contains a new $1.5 billion program of guaranteed loans on which the government would pay up to 3 per cent interest. The President favored the loan guarantees but opposed the subsidies.

Nixon also objected strongly to a provision that would require him to spend all the money voted each year by Congress for the program and signed by him into law.
